National Associated Press to the Star.

NEW YORK, April 11.—A letter to the Herald from Salt Lake asserts that the confession of John D. Lee was constructed on speculation. It was written by Lee under solemn pledges by the District Attorney and United States Marshal that his life should be spared.
The United States Marshal and Attorney were in consultation with Brigham Young's financial agent before and after Lee's execution, and it is charged that they were bribed to give the confession in the interest of Brigham Young.
The Herald withheld the name of the operator, as his life would be in danger if it was made public.
United States District Attorney Howard, in a telegram to the Herald, denies any collusion with the Mormon authorities of suppressing evidence against Brigham Young or his priests.

This Morning.

LATEST—Over One Hundred
Persons Probably Lost.

Exciting Scenes During and Since the Conflagration.

Losses, Accidents and Incidents of the Great Calamity.

Special to the Star:

ST. LOUIS, April 11—3 P. M.—We learn that about ninety bodies have been taken from the ruins of the hotel.
It is said that the number will reach one hundred or more.

ST. LOUIS, April 11.—At a little after 1 o'clock this morning the people in the vicinity of the Southern Hotel were startled by the cry that the hotel was on fire. The flames, although inside, seemed to be making most rapid progress, and in a few minutes a dense column of smoke was hanging over the building, and all the upper portion seemed to be on fire.

The scenes in the vicinity were too wild and exciting to admit of description. Every window of the three stories next the roof was crowded with human beings shrieking for help, and the crowd below, which in the few minutes had become immense, was stupefied with horror, and seemed unable to comprehend the terror of the moment.

Ladders were placed on the Fourth-street portico, and by means of these the frightened and half-suffocated guests were rescued as rapidly as possible.
On the Fifth, Walnut and Elm-street sides the longest ladder would not reach further than the fourth story, and those above, with a horrible death hanging over them, had to suffer the disappointment of seeing that they could not be saved in that way.

The fire is supposed to have originated in a store room in the sixth story, on the Elm-street side of the building, and attempts to escape by the stairway in this corner were futile, but for minutes after the excitement had reached its height the other stairways were clear, and those who had the presence of mind to leave the windows and go down made their escape without difficulty.

The excitement continued at its height and the work of rescuing from the Fourth street side went on till nearly 4 o'clock, when the crash came and the great hotel was a mass of ruins. To the last moment the cries of the inmates for help could be heard, and even as the building was falling one was seen to jump from a window only to alight in the wreck and fire.

8 A. M.—The crowd about the scene of the fire has increased, till it is impossible to get within a block of the ropes stretched to keep it back. Estimates are unreliable, but the night clerk, and others who have the best opportunity of knowing, put the number of deaths at not less than sixty.

ST. LOUIS, April 11—11 A. M.—There is no abatement of excitement, and the crowd about the scene of the disaster is larger than ever. All attempts to get list of names failed thus far, but hope to send partial list in a few minutes.

Telegrams about persons supposed to be at the hotel are pouring in from all directions, and there is a general scramble to learn names of the lost and saved. Most of the deaths are believed to have occurred in the attempt to descend by means of the stairway in the corner where the fire originated.

The number of lives lost is increasing rapidly, but estimates are still wild and confused. Miss Kate Claxton, the well-known actress, jumped from a third-story window and broke both legs.

Employees of the hotel, who roomed in the sixth story, are nearly all missing.
Dr. Gerlach, German Consul, had one leg broken by jumping from a window.
Charles Zeeman, after making his escape to the stairway, returned to help others and was lost.

Philip Gerard was rescued among the last and has lost his reason. The doctors say he will recover.

Nine of the female servants jumped from the sixth story and were instantly killed.

J. E. Wilson, Mrs. Ensmen and Mrs.
Scott, guests of the hotel, were killed by jumping from the windows.

A woman jumped from the fifth-story and landed squarely on her feet. She is at the St. James Hotel, and not believed fatally injured.

Loss on hotel and furniture is put at $850,000.

National Associated Press to the Star.

ST. LOUIS, April 11.—At 1:30 o'clock this morning the Southern Hotel was discovered to be on fire. The flames had evidently been, at work for some time, for when the alarm was sounded, which was no doubt done at the moment of discovery, the entire upper portion of the building was on fire.

The flames were bursting from the roof, while from the upper windows the smoke poured forth in dense volumes.
Alarm after alarm was sounded, bringing the entire force of engines to the scene. The great height of the building, six stories, prevented the Fire Department from being able to do anything towards checking the flames.

Those in the street could see and hear the cries of those at the upper windows, but could render no assistance further than to cry "Hold on! hold on!" "Don't jump. We will try and get you out."

The hook-and-ladder wagons came, but seemed to be alarmingly delayed in getting to work. The poor creatures hanging from the upper windows continued their cries, which were heart-rending indeed.

At last when it appeared that the flames had almost entire possession of the sixth story, ladders were brought into requisition, but they were far too short, only reaching to the fourth floor.

Some cool-headed person suggested that the ladders be raised to the veranda, which had the effect of lengthening the ladders two stories, and many were thereby saved.

The engines got to work promptly, but the location of the fire placed them at great disadvantage, streams having to be thrown entirely over the building to reach the flames.

Several persons most seriously endangered had self-possession enough to tie bed-clothes together, and lowering themselves to the story below, made their escape.

Several others overcome by fright and driven by the flames threw themselves from the windows, and were either killed or seriously injured.

The fire was announced by the electric indicator from the store-room, and is supposed to have originated there.

The indications are that fifty persons perished, although it is impossible to reach anything like a correct statement of the loss of life. There are nine bodies at the Morgue.

ST. LOUIS, April 11—1 P. M.—Adams, the English Evangelist, leaped from the window and was killed.

A member of the English Parliament escaped, but got separated from his wife, and, supposing her lost, shot himself dead.

Mrs. Muenter was saved. George Frans Gaulay, Secretary of the Masonic Order, and wife, tied wet towels around their heads and started down stairs. Mr. Gaulay returned to his room for a picture of his dead boy, and was cut off by the flames. He leaped from the window and was killed. Mrs. Gaulay was forcibly prevented from suicide.
The particulars are heart-rending.

The report that Kate Claxton jumped from a window was erroneous. She had sufficient presence of mind to wrap her face and head with wet towels and walked and rolled down stairs, and except having a few bruises is safe.

The Only Cincinnati Men
Mentioned Thus Far.

Mr. Keeler, of the Alden Fruit Preserving Company, Cincinnati, was stopping at the Southern Hotel, and nothing has been heard of him since the fire, though numerous telegrams have been sent.

His family boards at the Grand Hotel, Cincinnati. It is, however, hoped that he is safe, as on account of the confusion it is impossible to find any one with a telegram or get messages over the wires.

LATER.—A telegram just received announces the safety of Mr. Keeler.

Manager R. E. J. Miles telegraphs:

"ST. LOUIS, April 11.
"J. R. Hawley, 161 Vine street: "Southern Hotel burnt last night. Gilbert and I safe. Many lives lost."
"R. E. J. MILES."

S. S. Crittenden, of Cincinnati, is among the saved.

A Declaration of War Expected on Friday.

National Associated Press to the Star.

VIENNA, April 11.—The Porte has forwarded circulars to the Pow. re-ject-ing the protocol, but offering to send an envoy to St. Petersburg to confer with the Russian Government for a simultaneous disarmament. A declaration of war by Russia, however, is expected on Friday, and the Russian troops are preparing to cross the Pruth. Considerable excitement prevails, as the situation is regarded as extremely critical. The Turkish Parliament has rejected the concessions offered by Montenegro.

NEWS FROM THE METROPOLIS

Another Dynamite Fiend.

National Associated Press to the Star.

NEW YORK, April 11.—A startling discovery was made in the United States Assessor's store at Light's, West street, yesterday afternoon. A number of Customs officers were engaged in going over the store, when an obstruction was found in one of the cases. All the wires were drawn out, when it was discovered that the object was a large tin case filled with dynamite and connected with a number of wires.

The discovery caused great excitement and no little alarm. The exact nature of the infernal machine, as the box is believed to be, is not known, nor has it been ascertained whether it was connected with any kind of clock-work movement for its explosion. The name of the vessel in which the wire was brought to this port could not be ascertained.

Mr. A. J. Dean,

who was wounded in the Burling Slip tragedy on Thursday last, is recovering.
He declines to make any further statements concerning the affair except to the proper authorities at the proper time. The inquest will be held to-day.

FROM THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

Treasury Department Conference.

National Associated Press to the Star.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—A conference was held at the Treasury Department last night, during which the subject of the reorganization of the corps of Special Agents was considered. This consideration grew out of the recommendation of the Second Assistant Secretary of the Treasury. On the subject of the consolidation of the Special Agents of Treasury, Internal Revenue and Secret Service, already alluded to in these dispatches, the Conference practically decided to abolish the eight grades now existing in the corps of Special Agents of the Treasury, reducing them to three grades at $8, $7 and $6 per day.

Chamberlain's Surrender.

The news of the unconditional surrender of Chamberlain, simultaneous with the withdrawal of the Federal force from the State-house at Columbia, though anticipated in official circles here, produced a feeling of general relief. It is believed that the Louisiana question will be peacefully settled also, and within a very short time.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

End of the Double Government and all Quiet.

National Associated Press to the Star.

COLUMBIA, April 10.—The utmost quiet prevails this morning and the prospects of the people here seem brighter than for years. Hampton's officers are in peaceful possession everywhere, and the course of Chamberlain in reconsidering his determination to stick, is commended by his followers.
The following was made public yesterday:

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA,
EXECUTIVE DEPT., COLUMBIA.

April 10, 1877.

SIR—Having learned you now propose to turn over to me the Executive Chamber, with the records and papers belonging to the Executive Office now in your possession, I beg to inform you I will send the proper officer to receive the same at any hour you may indicate as most convenient to yourself. I am very respectfully, your obedient servant, WADE HAMPTON, Governor.

To Hon. D. H. Chamberlain.

EXECUTIVE DEPT., COLUMBIA.

April 10, 1877.

SIR—Replying to your note of this date, I have to say that my Private Secretary will meet such officer as you may designate at 12 M. to-morrow, at the Executive Chamber, for the purpose indicated in your note. Very respectfully, D. H. CHAMBERLAIN,
Governor of South Carolina.

To Hon. Wade Hampton.

There is no excitement whatever.

PACKARD'S POSITION.

He is Willing to Almost Anything and Asks the President to Sug- gest.

National Associated Press to the Star.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The Tribune's special says: Gov. Packard says he will accept any plan of compromise which President Hayes will say he approves of. If the President has none to propose, then he demands that either N. C. or himself shall be promptly recognized.

The President, he says, has a right to recognize Nicholas, but has no right to withhold his hand and permit the legal government to be crushed out by force.
Pinchback announces that he will today take over enough colored members from the Packard Legislature to Nichols to break up the Returning Board quorum in the former body. If he succeeds, the problem will be very near a full solution. The Commission is working hard hearing delegations, but making no progress toward an adjustment of the trouble.

LATEST LOCAL.

MAYOR G. W. C. JOHNSTON will deliver his annual message to the Common Council to-morrow.

The meeting of the Board of Public Works this morning was one of unim-portance to the public. schools in the city is 26; number of teachers, 264; of pupils, 16,500.

Mr. H. M. MILLER, one of the most generally and polite clerks in the office of Superintendent of Police, is today celebrating his twenty-ninth anniversary of his birthday.

An inquest was held this forenoon on the body of Henry Kreuter, whose death we reported yesterday. The Coroner's Jury read a verdict of death from consumption accelerated by ex-posure.

The complimentary testimonial to Mr. John Havlin, Business Manager of Wood's Theater, has been postponed on account of a previous engagement of the facade for next Monday evening. The evening for it will, however, be announced soon, and it will be a rouser when it does come off.

This morning, between 7 and 8 o'clock, in front of Lewis' bakery on Sixth street, a young man, Farney, and a huckster, became involved in a dispute about some trade they had about some apples, when the city boy pitched into the young man from the country, and quite a lively little fight commenced. Two friends of the city boy took a hand, but the Granger came out first best. No arrests, as the police were just around the corner.

Accident at the Custom-house.

Harvey Jones, General Superintendent of the new Custom-house building, this evening fell through the scantling to the cellar, a distance of thirty feet.
He is seriously injured about the face, head, arms and breast, but his wounds will not prove fatal. He was taken to his home on Eastern avenue, in Fulton.

Covington Baby Show.

Over two hundred entries have been made in the Covington Baby Show, to be
